The Central New York Personal Computer Users Group (CNYPCUG) was founded in 1985 by a small group of people who shared a common interest in personal computers. The group at present consists of hundreds of members comprised of individuals whose level of skill with computing ranges from novice to advanced, hobbyist to professional. What draws us together is the desire to explore the ever-changing world of personal computing and to share our insights with as many others as possible.

CNYPCUG was granted federal nonprofit status in 1989 and is an all-volunteer group. Our mandate is to serve the public by disseminating unbiased information about personal computing through our newsletter, monthly meetings, classes and SIGs.

Our meetings are held on the first Monday of each month at Liverpool Library, Carman Community Room, Liverpool, NY. These meetings start with a Computer Clinic, where in an open forum style, questions about system hardware and software are asked and answered. After the Clinic and a short business meeting, a guest lecturer will present a demonstration on a specific topic.

Our Guests in the past have been fellow members as well as industry leaders who present products many of us would otherwise only get to read about in trade papers or briefly glimpse at trade shows.

Our monthly newsletter, SALTBytes, won the top international award in 1992, 1993 and 1994 from the Byte Information Exchange, one of the oldest and most respected information services. We feature product reviews, class listings, advice, and tips on how to use your PC to enhance personal productivity. CNYPCUG sponsors an internet home page called CNYPCUG.ORG which acts as a clearinghouse for information through its announcements and message areas.

Our classes cover a wide variety of topics at various skill levels. The classes are taught at the ITT-Tech Liverpool campus by volunteers and are free and open to the public.

To become a member, or for more information, please come to a meeting, or contact us using any of the information at the bottom of the page.

Whether you want to build your skills, network with others or serve the community, we're here to help!
